"Building for Ministries" a Response to a Need

"Building for Ministries" was created by Bruns General Contracting in response to a growing need for quality church facilities. The division focuses on providing the local church the facilities they need to perform the ministries they are called to do.

As a market driven division of Bruns General Contracting, "Building for Ministries" maintains regular contact with approximately 3,500 church congregations located within a 70 mile radius of the Bruns corporate headquarters in Tipp City, Ohio. This focus on a specific-use market can be a huge benefit to a congregation that wants to expand, renovate or relocate their existing facility.

Providing our church clients with a single point of contact between "Building for Ministries" and "Bruns Realty Group" is another advantage of working with the Bruns team. This unique relationship offers Bruns customers an opportunity to receive information on their existing building, property analysis, other potential building site locations, and buildings available for purchase or lease.

If your congregation is thinking about re-locating, consider contacting the "Building for Ministries" team to help evaluate the feasibility of relocation and disposition of your current property.
