

“How it’s easy being green.”

A wise green frog once said, “It’s not easy being green.” We disagree! At Bruns, we want you to know that there are many simple steps you can take to be green, and leave a mark on this Earth that benefits generations to come. Here are a few simple steps that any consumer can take to be a little greener:

- Switch to energy-saving light bulbs.
- Use water-saving showerheads with at least a 3-star rating.
- Be smart when heating and cooling your home; close doors to rooms you aren’t using, open windows and use fans when you can, and close curtains, doors, and shutters when using your heating or cooling source.
- Carefully control your thermostat; a few extra degrees up or down will make a great impact on energy consumption, but you won’t notice the difference much, if at all.
- Carpool or use public transportation to reduce gas consumption and air pollution, and catch up on some reading!
- Turn off appliances, computers, etc. when not in use.
- Recycle! It’s a simple step to take towards creating less waste on our Earth.
- Implement as many of these ideas as you can at the office, too!

If everyone did just these small steps, imagine what a difference we could all make together!
It’s so easy being green!
